

Author Index & Biodata

(cont'd)

♥ Vincent George, PhD – was a Trinidadian who taught geography at the secondary level in Trinidad and Jamaica and lectured at the UWI, Mona and Kenyatta University College in Nairobi, Kenya. He also served as a regional examiner.

♥ Eunice Gilzene – was an experienced teacher in the Jamaican classroom.

Franklyn Gittens – is a senior business development officer with the National Entrepreneurship Development Company Ltd., Trinidad and is responsible for the counselling, training, mentoring and financing of start-ups and existing small business ventures.

Marlene Golding – is a Grade 4 teacher at Christiana Leased Primary and Infant School and is an accomplished primary level specialist with over 16 years' experience.

Nattalie Gordon – is the 2010 winner of the National Reading Competition and a multiple-time entrant and awardee in the Jamaica Cultural Development Commission's (JCDC) Creative Writing Competition.

Jean Goulbourne – won many awards and widespread acclaim for her literary publications. Her work includes two poetry collections, a novel for adult readers, short stories and poems published in several Caribbean newspapers and journals.

Marva Griffith-Green – is a former senior administrator in the Faculty of Social Sciences at UWI, Mona. She has served education in many roles as an outstanding science educator who is one of the authors of Carlong's landmark First Steps in Science series.

Sybile Hamil – is formerly the principal lecturer in Business Education in the Department of Education, UTech, Jamaica. She has served on the CXC's Business Education Panel.

U. Eugenie Harrison – is an educator at the early childhood level and at the tertiary level, where she taught for 10 years. She is one of the authors of Carlong's original Carlong Primary Social Studies series.

Dezmarie Hines – is a committed and successful preparatory school teacher in Jamaica. She currently teaches overseas.

Kendel Hippolyte – is one of the Caribbean's foremost playwrights. His work has been studied and performed throughout the region.

Ena Hughes – is a former teacher and primary school principal in Jamaica.

Carol Hunter Clarke, PhD – is a part-time lecturer in the Department of Literatures in English, UWI, Mona. She has served as a regional examiner.

Karla Hylton, PhD – has her PhD in Biotechnology and a postgraduate Diploma in Education. She has several years' teaching experience and operates Bio & Chem Tutoring, a Kingston, Jamaica-based teaching programme.

Wendy-Ann P. Isaac – is a lecturer in Crop Production, Faculty of Food and Agriculture, University of the West Indies, St Augustine.

Sharon James – lives in Antigua but was born in Dominica to Antiguan parents. She treasures her strong roots in both countries.

♥ Pauline Johnson – was an experienced primary school teacher. She had worked as a mathematics resource teacher for the MOE in Jamaica.

Sonia Johnson-Smith – is a trained early childhood educator with years of experience in teaching at that level of the Jamaican education system.

Eleanor Jones – is a former lecturer in physical geography at the UWI, Mona, and is a former GCE Advanced Level examiner for geography. She currently manages her own environmental consultancy firm.

Cuthbert C. Joseph – is a teacher of Business and has been engaged in entrepreneurship training for a decade. He has contributed questions for CAPE Management of Business and Entrepreneurship examinations and regularly participates in marking CAPE examinations.

Myrtle Kellier – taught English at both the secondary and tertiary levels in Jamaica.

Paul H. King – worked internationally in Measurement and Evaluation. He taught for several years at the secondary level and now works as a consultant.

K'adamawe K'nife – is the director of the office of social entrepreneurship and co-ordinator of the BSc in Management and Entrepreneurship Option, in the Mona School of Business and Management, University of the West Indies, Mona.

Sybil Leslie – worked as administrator and lecturer in social studies at the tertiary level in Jamaica and Barbados.

Janet P. Lewis – is an early childhood professional with years of teaching, lecturing and administrative experience in her field. She is currently the director of the Early Childhood Centre at the Mico University College, Jamaica.

Hyacinth Leyden – is a former retired school principal. She has served as a resource teacher of social studies at the tertiary level in Jamaica.

Mercilia Mallett – is a former primary school principal in Jamaica.

Eileen Marshall – is an experienced educator who has taught English Language at the primary and secondary levels. She is a former Information Specialist in the MOE, Jamaica.

Vilma McClenan – was coordinator of the UWI Distance Education Centre (UWIDEC), Mona. She is a distinguished science educator, who in 2000 was awarded the bronze Musgrave Medal from the Institute of Jamaica. She is also the main author of the landmark First Steps in Science (FSIS) series.

Keith McDonald – is the Academic Head of the School of Higher Education Ltd in Trinidad and Tobago, with responsibility for Entrepreneurial Management.

Doreth McFarlane – is an outstanding and experienced former primary level teacher in Jamaica. She worked for years as a MOE resource teacher and was the recipient of the bronze Musgrave Medal from the Institute of Jamaica in the field of Science and Education.

♥ Joyce McKenzie – was an outstanding mathematics educator, former education officer of the MOE, Jamaica and former director of the Heart Trust/NTA.

Zelphya McLaren – taught social studies for many years and served as administrator at all levels of the system.

Yvonne Miller Wisdom – is the principal of John Rollins Success Primary School where she supervises the teaching of Religious Education.

Author Index & Biodata

(cont'd)

Denis Mitchell – is a Certified Project Management Professional (PMP) and has postgraduate qualifications in International Relations, Entrepreneurship & Business Venturing and SME Management & Development.

Ivy Mitchell, PhD – lectured for many years in English and Communication at UTech, Jamaica and the UWI, Mona. Formerly a primary and secondary level teacher, she also worked as consultant on several projects in Language Education with the MOEYI, Jamaica.

Hortense Morgan – is a former primary school principal and was in the forefront of science education in Jamaica for many years.

♥ Pam Morris – was a former senior education officer in the MOE, Jamaica, and a lecturer in the Department of Education at UWI, Mona.

Sharon Neil – taught English as principal lecturer at the tertiary level. She is a senior education officer in the MOE, Jamaica where she has served on the Primary Education Implementation Project (PEIP) and on the National Assessment Programme (NAP).

Barbara Nelson – taught at the secondary level but made her name as a journalist and researcher.

Alafia Noel – is a creative and dynamic theatre arts teacher.

Dorothy Noel – is a successful textbook author and former Publishing Manager at Carlong Publishers; she had been part of the Carlong team for almost 30 years. She is a former teacher of English at the secondary level and a former assistant chief examiner of CSEC® English A.

Keith Noel – is a distinguished educator and successful textbook author. He is a former high school principal and teacher of English and Drama at the secondary level. He is also the author of the groundbreaking Carlong Caribbean Drama for the Classroom. He is a respected theatre director and drama critic.

Delores O'Connor – is a distinguished mathematics educator and a former education officer of the MOEYI, Jamaica.

Jennifer O'Sullivan-Sirjue – is a distinguished educator who has taught at both the primary and secondary levels in Jamaica.

Richard Paisley – is an experienced Jamaican illustrator and designer who has himself published books.

Olive Peart – is an avid reader and writer. Peart regularly writes articles for radiological journals and news magazines, and gives lectures on radiography-related topics. Her works of fiction which include young adult novels, were originally created purely for personal enjoyment.

Geoffrey Philp – was born in Jamaica. He is one of few writers whose work has been published in the Oxford Book of Caribbean Short Stories and Oxford Book of Caribbean Verse. Philp teaches creative writing at Miami Dade College.

Kirk Phillip – is a teacher of Principles of Business, Principles of Accounts and Management of Business at Holy Faith Convent, Penal, Trinidad and Tobago.

Velma Pollard – is a former senior lecturer at the School of Education, UWI, Mona. She is the author of collections of short stories, poems, and a novel, as well as books and articles on Caribbean language and literature. Her novella Karl won the Casa de las Americas prize in 1992.

Bernetta Porter – is a former senior education officer in the MOEYI, Jamaica and has been the training officer for the Primary Education Support Project (PESP). She has also served as assistant coordinator of the NAP.

Ruth Dorothy Pottinger – is a well-known name in Caribbean science education. She has worked as a teacher and teacher educator, as well as in curriculum development.

Paul Pounder, PhD – is a lecturer at the University of the West Indies, Cave Hill and is known in the Caribbean region for his research, innovative curriculum development, and teaching in entrepreneurship, new ventures, project management and entrepreneurial finance.

Wayne Powell – is a self-taught, freelance Jamaican illustrator.

Paulette Ramsay, PhD – is a senior lecturer (Associate Professor) in the Faculty of Humanities and Education at the University of the West Indies, Mona, Jamaica.

Phyllis Reynolds – is a distinguished educator who has worked as both teacher and administrator. She is a former assistant chief education officer for Curriculum in Jamaica.

Peter Roberts – is a retired professor of Creole Linguistics at the University of the West Indies, Cave Hill.

Sherma Roberts – is a lecturer in Tourism and programme co-ordinator at the University of the West Indies, Cave Hill. She is chief examiner for the CXC CAPE Tourism examination.

♥ Juliet Robertson – was a preparatory school principal and an outstanding primary level teacher of handwriting techniques.

Gloria V. Robinson, PhD – is a former education officer at the MOEYI, Jamaica.

Karlene Robinson – is a former Head of the Business Department at Excelsior High School, Jamaica. As a teacher-educator and an examiner, she has trained teachers in the SBA component of the CSEC® Principles of Business examination throughout the Caribbean.

Pansy Robinson – is an experienced educator of social studies programmes for teachers at all levels of the education system. She served for some time as education officer for Social Studies in the MOE, Jamaica.

Sonia Robinson-Glanville – taught social studies at the secondary level in Jamaica and has also been a vice-principal at that level. She is now a senior education officer with the MOEYI, Jamaica.

Jean Rose – taught for many years at a preparatory school in Jamaica.

♥ L. C. Ruddock – served formerly as principal education officer in the MOE, Jamaica.

Kenneth Runcie – heads the Department of Religious Education at Shortwood Teachers' College, Jamaica. He is Editorial Adviser for Carlong's Religious Education series. His expertise is respected throughout the region.

Fitz-Albert Russell, PhD – is an educator and senior administrator with the MOE, Jamaica.

Cheryl Ryman – a former practitioner, is one of the Caribbean's leading dance researchers.